The Korean Cultural Center of Los Angeles(KCCLA) and The Seoul Shinmun Daily proudly present the “2017 K-POP Cover Dance Festival: U.S. Finals”. This contest will challenge all eligible K-POP enthusiasts in their abilities to dance and sing while utilizing K-POP beats, lyrics, and choreography. The festival will be hosted by MC PK, and we will have a one hour dance workshop with Yireh Kim.

The KCCLA has invited professional dance instructors to hold a K-POP Dance workshop, and all the K-POP fans will have a chance to learn K-POP Dance. During this K-POP Dance Workshop, enthusiastic participants will be able to take home K-POP concert tickets as prizes, in hopes that this will continue the interest of K-POP as well as the Korean culture.

This event was specially sponsored by The Source, a Southern California's premier entertainment & leisure destination, combining international brands, restaurants and specialty merchants. The venue will be the greatest entertainment venue for our exciting event. Korean Cultural Center and The Source anticipate the participation of many OC local residents.

Interview – Director of KCCLA, Nak Jung Kim

“<2017 K-POP Cover Dance Festival> has been designed for those of you who love K-Pop to try out the latest K-POP dances and songs. I hope all the K-POP fans can gather and enjoy the music together. The Korean Culture Center Los Angeles will continuously endeavor to expand the Hallyu wave throughout America with many K-POP events and festivals,” says Nak Jung Kim, director of Korean Cultural Center Los Angeles.

This is a special event open to the public.

All friends and families are welcome to attend the event.
