The Korean Cultural Center, Los Angeles (Wijin Park, Director) as a promotional partner in cooperation with Skirball Cultural Center will present a special virtual Concert "Skirball Stage : Gavin Turek and Ak Dan Gwang Chil" on Saturday, August 29th, 2020 on the Skirball Cultural Center YouTube channel (<https://www.youtube.com/user/SkirballCulturalCtr>).

Initially, the Skirball Cultural Center planned to host a live performance, inviting ADG7(Ak Dan Gwang Chil) from Korea to its annual summer "Sunset Concert 2020." However, with all scheduled performances canceled this year due to COVID-19, a special virtual concert called "Skirball Stage" will be streamed online at 8 p.m. this coming Saturday.

The first episode of "Skirball Stage" will feature 'Gavin Turek and Ak Dan Gwang Chil Virtual Concert' (a total of 60 minutes).

As a promotion partner, KCCLA is promoting Korean performances organized by the Skirball Cultural Center to the Korean communities so that many people can watch the "Skirball Stage" performance.

For the production of this performance video, KCCLA provides an English-translated program for the interview video of ADG7 (about an hour) so that the parts needed for the entire performance video could be edited and produced.

The performance video will be performed in the order of the highlights, " Youngjeonggeori," " Nanbongga," " Hello, Lonely " and " Aucha" will be provided with English subtitles.

1) Youngjeonggeori

It is a new reinterpretation of “Youngjeonggeori” of Hwanghae-do Gut. The original song feels dreamy and intense with mixed various shamans’ voices. Even though it is an old song, the modern sound techniques are impressive. The characteristics of the original song are retained while trying to capture the sounds of Ak Dan Gwang Chil.

2) Nanbongga

We put Ak Dan Gwang Chil’s belief and beauty of difficult love in the Seodo Minyo “Nanbongga”.

3) Hello, Lonely

City People are used to living alone. Despite doing everything alone, we have loneliness and emptiness in our heart. We wanted to deliver our consolation through this song.

4) Aucha

As a motif of the boatman’s song in Baeyeonshin Gut of the west coast, it’s a song that makes people feel hopeful and happy like returning with a boat fully loaded with fish.

For more information, such as watching the performance, visit KCCLA's website (<http://www.kccla.org/>) or the Skirball Cultural Center's website (<https://www.skirball.org/>), and watch the show for free and receive detailed information about the performance through the pre-booking (RSVP).

For full experience of culture and cuisine, Skirball also introduces carry-out SKIRBALL SUPPERS.

To complement the viewing experience for Angelenos, the Skirball also introduces a carry-out culinary experience, Skirball Suppers, on August 29. Before settling in to watch the concert, locals are invited to pre-order and pick up a three-course meal prepared by the Skirball's culinary experts. The August 29 prix-fixe menu offers mouthwatering dishes inspired by Korean cuisine. As part of the full Skirball Suppers offering, recipes of select dishes from the menu will be provided free online for at-home preparation.
