The Korean Cultural Center Los Angeles (KCCLA, Director Sangwon Jung) will hold a “Korean Night” on Thursday, August 18th at the Skirball Cultural Center located at 2701 N. Sepulveda Blvd., Los Angeles CA 90049. The event will run from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

This event has been prepared in collaboration with the Skirball Cultural Center—a representative cultural space in Los Angeles—as part of the free, annual “Sunset Concert Series” and this year will mark the 25th anniversary of the series.

This year’s Sunset Concert Series kicked off on July 21st, during which time visitors have been able to enjoy music and culture from various communities. On August 18, Korean traditional fusion band ‘ADG7’ will be performing as representatives of Korea and Asia. Last year, ADG7 made their West Coast debut with tours to three major cities—Seattle, Portland and Los Angeles—and were very well received by US fans.

For this particular night, KCCLA has prepared the “Korean Night” to meet with from the local community. First, visitors will get their name tags in Korean alphabet, try on Hanbok (traditional Korean costumes) and take pictures in the KCCLA photo zone, as well as play games to win various Korean prizes as part of the event.

Director Jung said, “We are thrilled to be showcasing various cultural performances, including Korean music, at the Skirball Cultural Center,” and “We look forward to welcoming and raising awareness of Korean culture, including K-Pop, to visitors through events that showcase traditional Korean costumes (Hanbok), Korean cuisine (Hansik) and Korean name tags using Hangul.”

ADG7’s performance will begin at 8:00 p.m. and visitors will be able to experience the Korean culture activities starting at 6:30 p.m. The exhibition is also free of charge at the Skirball Cultural Center until 10 p.m. Outside food is permitted but alcohol cannot be brought in.
