Korean Cultural Center Los Angeles (Director Sangwon Jung) hosts a free screening of the movie <Scandal Makers> at 7 pm on July 31st Wednesday at the center's Ari Hall(3F).

<Scandal Makers>, which was released in 2008 and starring Park Bo-young and Cha Tae-hyun, was produced by the director Kang Hyung-chul who also directed popular movies like<Sunny> (2011) and <Tazza: The Hidden Card> (2014). The movie received lots of attention by attracting about 8.2 million moviegoers to theaters.

Due to the popularity of the movie, Actor Park Bo-young and Wang Seok-hyun, who featured in the movie, started to build awareness nationwide. Moreover, the movie was remade in other countries such as Russia, China, and Vietnam.

<KCCLA Movie Night: Family on Screen> is a serial movie screening event planned in a celebration of Family Month in Korea which is celebrated nationally every May. It has been screening 3 movies and it comes to an end with its 4th movie <Scandal Makers>.

Movie screening doesn't have an admission fee, however, audiences under the age of 13 should accompany their parents or an adult guardian. Reservation is available at the KCCLA's website (www.kccla.org). /END/
